MASSACHUSETTS ORGANIZATION FOR ADDICTION RECOVERY (MOAR)

HISTORY PRESERVATION INTERN

Boston, MA

Internship Type: Macro -- UNPAID

Intern positions: 1

Student Type: Bachelor or Master level student

This Program is about archiving, spreading, and spotlighting the history of MOAR, Massachusetts Organization for Addiction Recovery, as it relates to the Massachusetts Recovery Movement. It will require archiving history which means scanning historical documents and providing a historical overview for all. It further requires staying on top of the current recovery community movement with participation and documentation promoting public awareness.

The goal is to spread the history supporting a continuation of the lessons learned experience that can be used for the present and future. All are to reflect the outcomes of The MOAR Mission to “organize individuals, families, and friends into a collective voice to educate the public about the value of living in recovery” with respect to all cultures.

Internship Overview: Interns’ primary responsibilities include: The intern is expected to support the research, documentation, and participation in activities towards actualizing the goals.

Internship Learning Opportunities: The intern will be given an overview of the history of MOAR in relationship to the Massachusetts history of recovery and related advocacy. This will require scanning, researching, documenting, and participating in related activities. This will be a great Macro opportunity for applying research into real world community activity.

Internship Requirements: The intern is required to have technological capacity to be able to scan, research, and document the historical information. The intern will have an interest in public policy, particularly building public awareness. The intern will participate in a variety of aspects of certain related events.

Internship Hours: The intern will at minimum be scheduled on site 8 or more hours during the week when the supervisor is present. The intern can expect to fulfill the college’s required practicum hours.

Supervision: The Recovery Historian will be the supervisor, who will be able to guide the intern through the expected process. The Recovery Historian will follow the guidance set by the student’s college internship advisors.
